The steamer Express, from Balmore, due here yesterday evening, did not anize until this morning at eleven o'clock, having stopped at Chapel point all night, in Enguence of stress of weather. It is reportthat a break has been caused by the rain on erailroad between Washington and Baltimore, and no train has come through as yet. The train due at Washington, at seven this morning from the North, had not reached the Relay House at eight o'clock. If the rain and wind continue as at present the tide will be ligher to-night than it was this morning, and ome damage may be done along the wharves.

PRINCE GEORGE'S Co., MD.-The Marloro' Gazette says: "The Governor of Maryand has set apart Friday the 2nd day of No Tember next as the day on which the four nego men who murdered Wm. THE CARRIERS of the Gazette, were, yesterday evening, unable to serve the paper, with their accustomed regularity to a number of subscribers, owing to the violence of the storm. The gutters were in some places turned into small creeks, and the darkness of the night rendered walking extremely dangerous. They did their best, and have no doubt but that all their friends will excuse the delay in receiving their papers, considering that if men could not stand such a storm, the little Carriers could hardly be expected to trudge for miles through its severity.
